Background

- Mayor and Council authorized staff to develop standards for the congregation of food trucks on approved sites at the January 11, 2023 meeting
- Staff has reviewed examples from other cities / communities and held several meetings and developed draft standards to address the issue
- Looking for a balance on how to regulate this specific land use

Why the Code Amendment?

- Mobile food trucks and peddlers are currently permitted
- Starting to see changes in the ways food trucks congregate
- Concerns about health and safety including electrical, parking, and bathrooms
- Strong interest in our community and want to support small business incubation, but don't currently have a means to regulate

The Pit closed — and opened again. Here's the nitty-gritty of what's going on with the food truck park.

There's currently no system in place for a food truck park like The Pit, and things have gotten complicated.
